WHERE CRAFT MEETS CURIOSITY

LEK approaches tableware as an open field for ideas. Created by the mind behind a celebrated tableware heritage, the brand is an invitation to explore what happens when craft meets curiosity and the boundaries of form are allowed to loosen.

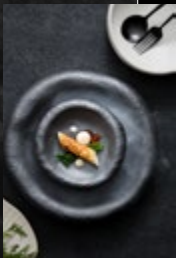

Here, materials are chosen for the character they bring to the table. Stoneware offers depth and texture, while porcelain reveals a softer luminosity. Together they create a diverse language of surfaces, shapes, and subtle contrasts that shift with light, plating, and atmosphere.

Within this catalogue, three worlds unfold. No Boundary brings organic movement and nature-inspired forms. The Classic reflects a calm, luminous simplicity shaped through porcelain. Colour Chorus introduces playful contrasts and layered colour, offering a more expressive rhythm to the table.

These collections mark the opening movement of LEK. As the brand continues to evolve, new interpretations will emerge, expanding the family while continuing to explore the many ways a table can become a place of quiet creativity.

THE CLASSIC

The Classic Collection reflects a calm, luminous simplicity shaped through porcelain. The collection evolves with purpose, allowing new expressions to emerge while holding true to a timeless foundation.

N° BOUNDARY

No Boundary is for those who find inspiration in nature's quiet grandeur: mountains, cliffs, and ancient landscapes. They seek to bring that serenity to the table. Each piece embraces the irregularity and rhythm of the natural world, a reminder that beauty often lies in imperfection and authenticity.

Crafted from materials that are chosen for the character they bring to the table. Its weight, texture, and organic forms reward touch as much as sight, inviting a sense of calm and connection with the materials. For hosts, chefs, and diners who approach every meal as a crafted experience, No Boundary becomes a canvas for creativity. Every curve, edge, and surface tells a story; a subtle interplay of form, colour, and texture that transforms dining into an elemental encounter.

COLOUR CHORUS

Colour Chorus looks at the table from a fresh point of view. It is made for people who enjoy variety and treating each meal as something worth noticing. In this expression, colour works side by side with shape, not just as decoration but as part of the design. Familiar forms are rethought, with pieces that feel expressive without being loud. Radiant tones sit comfortably with softer, earthy finishes, giving each item a presence you can see and feel.

Shape matters just as much as colour. Drawing inspiration from blooming flowers and the natural form of scallop shells, this expression features softly-contoured rims. The curved edging also gently outlines each piece, providing structure while allowing the cuisine to remain in focus. Surfaces carry subtle variation and gentle detailing, while reflective accents add contrast without overpowering the design.

Every piece has its own personality, yet they sit naturally together on the table. Colour Chorus is about bringing different elements into balance, offering tableware that feels thoughtful, flexible, and quietly distinctive for hospitality and home settings.

LEK CARE & HANDLING

Material & Origin

LEK brings together different material expressions, shaped through a considered approach to craft. Produced in Dehua, China — the birth place of Blanc De Chine — where ceramic traditions run deep, the collection spans both stoneware and porcelain, each offering a distinct interpretation of form, surface, and light.

Forming & Firing

Natural raw materials are carefully prepared and formed before being fired at high temperatures. In stoneware, this brings depth and tactility. In porcelain, it reveals a softer luminosity and refinement. Together, they create a layered material language across the collection.

Quality Review

Each piece is assessed by hand to ensure it meets our standards in form and finish. The intention is not uniform perfection, but a level of consistency that respects both design and material.

Natural Variation & Care

Each material evolves in its own way. Variations in glaze, tonal shifts, and gentle surface markings are part of their nature, giving every piece a unique identity over time. These qualities reflect both process and use. With considered care, LEK pieces continue to find their place at the table.
